COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

In accordance with the voting at the Annual Town Meeting the total appropriations amount to $184,480.00 plus $6,000.00 estimated County Tax. From this is subtracted $16,000.00 which was appropriated from surplus, leaving $178,480.00 to be raised by taxation, which is $11,499.00 more than was appropriated for 1958.

Although it is still too early to determine as to what the tax rate will be, as this will depend on the amount of taxable property. The assessors anticipate an increase in taxable property as the gains from new construction will more than offset the losses by fire, veterans' exemptions, etc. However the gain in property valuations will probably not offset the increase in appropriations, which will result in an increase in the tax rate.

1959 dog licenses can now be purchased from the Town Clerk as she has received new tags and forms from the state. Dog licenses are due April 1st on dogs that are six months old or more on this date. The license fees are the same as last year.

If anyone desires to send a copy of the town report to a relative or friend that was a former resident of Bethel that would be interested in receiving a copy, may call at the Town Office for the report.

In the very near future notices will be mailed to all persons that are delinquent in the payment of their 1958 taxes. The notice will contain information as to when tax liens will be filed on real estate taxes, and suit or summons will be issued against poll and personal property tax payers.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

SKIWAY AWARDS CONTRACT FOR FINAL SURVEYS - ENGINEERING

An important contract was signed this week between the Sunday River Skiway Corporation, developer of Maine's newest major winter sports area, and Sno-Engineering Corporation of Nashua, N. H., according to an announcement made by Addison C. Saunders, President of the Maine organization.

Under the contract, the New Hampshire concern will assume full responsibility for surveys and engineering remaining to be completed on the Sunday River project on the outskirts of Bethel. They will prepare detailed specifications for the lift, trails, buildings, roads, and parking areas, and they will obtain firm bids from manufacturers and contractors on all phases of construction that remain to be done as of this date. It is also expected that Sno-Engineering will supervise the actual installation of the lift during the summer months.

In commenting on this action Mr. Saunders pointed out that the contract with the "New Hampshire firm removes all of the 'guess work' from the planning stage for the Sunday River Skiway, and turns it over to a group of well-qualified experts who have had a considerable amount of practical experience in the construction and operation of ski areas. Among them are Sel Hanna of Franconia, N. H. International recognized authority on all phases of ski developments, George Macomber, developer of the Wildcat Mountain Area at Pinkham Notch, and David Heald, who managed the big development at Lake Sunapee State Park in New Hampshire for several years.

It is expected that the engineering phase of the project will be completed by April 15, and that the work of clearing trails, roads and parking area will be resumed shortly thereafter.

DON ANGEVINE NAMED TO EASTERN NORDIC TEAM

Don Angevine of Bethel, a junior at Gould Academy, was named this week to the Eastern Nordic Team which will compete in the National Junior Championships at Yalima, Washington, March 19-21. A cross-country specialist, Don has placed consistently high in all meets this year. Third in the State Championships 15th in the New England Championships and ninth in the Eastern Junior Championships. In this last race Don's high finishing spot was all the more remarkable because he broke a ski while running the course and was forced to cover one-fourth of a mile on one ski before he could obtain another one.

In traveling to this meet, Don follows the path of a number of other Gould alders who have done well in the Nationals in recent years. In this tradition it is expected that he will pose a real threat to the nation's top junior cross-country alders.

RED CROSS ANNUAL MARCH DRIVE

During its fiscal year from May to May your Bethel Red Cross Branch supplies new cot band-aids etc for the primary and grammar schools; the cost of swimming instruction, customary financial aid in four local fire cases, and Home Services for several veterans and families, including three layettes for others, besides working on bandages for Togs under Mrs. Richardson.

Over 70 percent of the amount collected last year was returned for use in town. Remember the need when our collector calls this month.

Discussions Feature Bethel Meeting --- School and Sewer Accounts Up

About 200 Bethel voters were interested in the balloting for town officers Monday, although there was but one content on the printed ballot. A change in the method of choosing selectmen and assessors was a new feature of the event. Five were elected this year but for three, two and one year terms instead of all for one year as before.

Officers elected were: Moderator—Henry H. Hastings; Selectmen and Assessors—3 years, Harold C. Bennett, John H. Carter; 2 years, Burton L. Newton; 1 year, Maurice L. Kendall, Wallace E. Saunders; School Committee—3 years, Stanley E. Davis; 2 years, Philippa Gilnes; Town Clerk—Violet M. Bennett.

Pay of town officers was fixed at the same rate as for several years past: selectmen, nothing; assessors and clerk, $100; health officer, $35.

An unusual feature of the hour and a half meeting was the decisions on appropriations, some of which were quite lengthy, but eventually following exactly the conclusions reached by the budget committee. Appropriations total came $11,000 more than a year ago.

The first discussion was on the appropriation for a night watchman. A motion to raise $3200 was defeated after being tied on a standing vote 43-43. A vote with printed ballots and the check list was 58 yes and 80 no. Then there was little opposition to the appropriation of $3550. Duties and routes covered by the night watchman were explained by Town Clerk.

PAUL RILEY TO COACH EASTERN ALPINE TEAM

Paul Riley, Gould Academy ski coach and history instructor has been appointed coach of the Eastern Junior Alpine team and will travel with them to the National Junior Championships at Yalima, Washington, March 19-21.

Mr. Riley has long been ranked among the top ski coaches in New England and during his coaching at Gould has consistently produced teams which have made Gould respected in Eastern skiing competition.

While captain of the Middlebury College ski team and later as a competitor, Mr. Riley became known as a top Alpine specialist. A native of Berlin, N. H., he came to Gould in 1950.

Manager Bean. At present the area includes West Bethel, North Bethel and South Bethel.

The increase in the amount raised for sewers was explained by Selectman John Carter. The bridge construction this year at Church, Railroad and Bridge Streets will leave sewers some 15 feet below the surface, making several manholes necessary. The town must bear all this expense.

Superintendent Donald Christie explained the increased school money. It is mostly due to the increases in teachers' pay which are now in effect, also to raises in secondary tuition and transportation. There was no opposition to the school repair recommendation of $6700, which will include extensive improvements at the village primary school and at West Bethel.

Present plans for a war memorial tablet on the Common were explained by Manager Bean and the suggested $1200 appropriation was not opposed. The proposed memorial will be of granite with bronze plates.

Attempts to donate $250 to the Rumford Community Hospital and $200 to the Bethel Lions Club for Christmas street lighting were defeated, as was a $250 appropriation for airport maintenance. Christmas lights were allowed $75 with the proposal that contributions from citizens would be possible as in previous years. The airport amount of $500 was raised after a little discussion.

The moderator was authorized to appoint the budget committee as usual. Members will be named this year for three, two and one year terms, following the new method in election of selectmen and assessors. The Selectmen were authorized to appoint a tree warden.

Most swine producers have probably noticed that baby pig anemia is becoming more of a problem these days.

This is probably due to two factors. First, with today's continuous farrowing programs, more pigs are born during colder weather, are more closely confined, do not get out on pastures where they can get needed iron and copper from the soil. Second, our soils are becoming more lacking in these elements. That also means further increase in anemia.

Baby pigs should be watched for signs of anemia.

Today, as a result, this is one of the most widespread killers of baby pigs. Anemia is costing farmers such heavy losses that it has been selected as one of the prime targets for National Livestock Loss Prevention Year in 1959.

What can the swine producer do about the problem? First, he needs to recognize its symptoms early. If anemia progresses too far, the veterinarian may be unable to save the affected pigs. And, often those which do recover are unhealthy.

Treatment needs to be started promptly. Symptoms include listlessness, weakness, pale membranes in the mouth, lips, snout and around the eyes and loss of appetite.

The method of preventing anemia is to put iron in the pig's pen. However, this is unsanitary, and many soils are becoming deficient.

In some cases, iron and copper tablets are given by mouth.

The newest method is to have a veterinarian inject a special, long-acting iron solution directly into the pig's muscle tissue. Many authorities now favor this because corrective dosages are controlled, and results seem dependable.

Anemia as a potential baby pig problem is going to be with us from now on. The wise farmer will plan to cope with it as a regular part of his operations.

THE WELCOME HOME

Dr. E. Stanley Jones tells of a young man riding on a train, talking with an older man beside him. As he neared his station, he became very nervous, and told his story. "I stole some money, and ran away from home. Last week I couldn't stand it any longer, and sent a telegram home, saying that I wanted to come back."

"This train goes right by my father's pasture before it gets to the station. I asked him to hang a white cloth on a branch of the big apple tree so I could see it, if he'd let me come home. If it isn't there, I will stay on the train."

"But now the time has come, I can't bear to look. You look, and tell me if it's there."

A few moments later, they reached the pasture, and the older man clutched the boy by the shoulder, and said, "Turn around and look! There's a piece of cloth on every branch of that tree."

Modern man, in spite of all his wealth and world mastery, finds himself in the same condition as that boy. He has left his father's home, like the Prodigal of the parable, and has tried to live in the far country, amid the swine pens.

But there is no peace in his heart, only a great vacancy, a homesickness. We have unlocked almost every secret in the world today, except the secret of our own life and destiny. In our need, we have turned to earthly Messiahs with feet of clay, and sought for spiritual guidance from those who are as confused as we are.

When we turn from these earthly saviors to the timeless teachings of the Word of God, we find there a great promise. "Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be white as snow." Whenever men and women, in simple faith, accept that promise, they make a great discovery. It is that "there is a piece of cloth on every branch of the tree."

For our God is a loving God, and forgiving one.

GOV. CLAUSON BUYS SEALS FROM EASTER SEAL BOY

Ten year old Jimmy Langley of Portland, Maine's 1959 Easter Seal Boy, had the thrill of his lifetime this week when he met Governor Clauson at the State Capital and sold him the first sheet of this year's Easter Seals, marking the opening day of the annual month-long Easter Seal campaign.

Stricken with Leg-Perthes disease in 1955, Jimmy was admitted to the Pine Tree Society's Hyde Memorial Rehabilitation Hospital in January, 1958, where he was given skilled care and therapy treatment until mid-November, 1958.

Looking at Jimmy today, zipping along on his crutches as fast as any other youngster, although his right heel is attached by a cord to his Sam Brown belt, you would never dream that for months at the Hyde Memorial Hospital he ate his meals and continued his school work confined to a stretchers. Now Jimmy challenges the other children to a race down the street, swims regularly at the Portland Boys' Club pool, and merrily joins in the other activities that make up a young boy's world.

In addition to receiving the necessary medical care, therapy treatment and school work at the Hyde Memorial, Jimmy was taught how a handicapped youngster can care for himself and learn to lead an independent useful life. Brighter tomorrows are assured for Maine's crippled children and adults by Maine's Easter Seal Agency, the Pine Tree Society, and contributions to Easter Seals Jimmy, and the many other Maine crippled children and adults who have been provided medically supervised rehabilitation by the Pine Tree Society are tangible evidence of this "Here's a sample of what Easter Seal dollars can do for us," says Jimmy as he races on crutches with lightning-like speed down the street.

"Industries, institutions and governments, as well as men and animals, are subject to the law of the survival of the fittest. They survive or perish according to their adaptability or inadaptability to environment. If we want them to endure, we must be willing to accept changes which will insure their preservation. The best security is through intelligent change." Industrial Press Service.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

SAUCEURED AND BLOWED Sociological researchers with strings of capital letters after their names tell us we live in a humdrum era. This is, they say, a period of transition when traditional customs and mores are sliding down the drain to oblivion. A conservative, onehorse farmer appreciates that he is falling behind the procession, but he still claims he can go through life fast enough behind a snappy Morgan roadster.

A return to more leisurely living would have a salubrious effect on the social order's jittery nervous system. One custom we would like to see slings a renascence is drinking coffee after it is sauceured and blowed.

Grandfather was a man who knew what he wanted. He made no compromises and therefore the women folks respected his wishes for a piece of pie to finish breakfast and hot muffins, always, for supper. Grandmother occasionally made a remark about his taste-dishonoring technique, but it had no effect. He like his coffee sauceured and blowed and that was the way he had it whether just a family meal, or whether the parson and his wife were in for dinner.

It was a pleasing, unharmed, and orderly ritual, performed simply and without affectation. He poured a part of his strong, hot coffee into the sauceur. He set the cup down on a special oil cloth dolly. Unhurriedly he lifted the sauceur and blew upon it. His grandchildren watched as his breath caused little ripples to run across the rich-looking, brown liquid. With his left hand he parted his mustache and with his right lifted the deep, old-fashioned, blue-pattered sauceur to his lips. He drank the sauceured and blowed coffee down. Sometimes he looked at grandmother with a twinkle in his eye. "Nothing like good coffee, Nellie, to make a meal," he would say.

MAN'S RECIPE

THIN-RICH SUGAR COOKIE I am a minister's son, 57 years old, with three sisters and no brothers, and I am deeply grateful that the girls are all younger than I. I had a hard time getting the cookies I needed with three self-appointed guardians, but probably the odds against me as a boy developed traits of initiative that have helped in later years.

Father was a combination minister-farmer. We lived on a 120 acre general farm and from earliest days I had chores and farm work as my contribution to the family. I feel a sermon coming on. Seems to me one of the troubles with today's young people is that they don't have chores. They don't learn to take responsibility; they don't feel an obligation to do a part of the family work. I believe it is good for boys and girls to learn responsibility early and to feel they should do their part in the daily chores of living.

Today's cookie is very rich—but very delicious. If you try it, I would be happy to have your reaction. You need one half cup butter or margarine, one third cup plus one tablespoon sugar, one egg beaten, one fourth teaspoon vanilla, one fourth teaspoon almond extract, three fourths cup flour, one fourth teaspoon salt.

Cream the butter and sugar. Add the egg mixed with the vanilla and almond extracts. Blend well. Add the flour sifted with the salt. Mix all.

Drop by teaspoon on greased cookie sheets. Leave space, for the butter spreads. Spread batter with knife dipped in hot water. Bake at 375 about seven minutes or until done.

Sometimes Grandmother let out a lady-like "Humph!" but one rather suspects that both of them enjoyed the sauceuring and blowing episodes.

Thursday March 5

Read Matthew 8:28-34.

Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee; and hath had compassion on thee. (Mark 5:19).

OFTEN during the course of everyday conversation we find someone who has a problem to which we hold the answer. It may be a physical, domestic, social, medical, or some other problem troubling the one speaking to us.

Since we have had similar experience, we may feel able to offer help or advice. To keep quiet at such a time would be thoughtless and selfish. Usually we let the individual know how we ourselves have been helped.

When the problem of the person speaking to us is spiritual, however, we are prone to remain quiet, even though we have experienced the joy and peace of the Lord. The salvation Christ offers is for all. If we fail to tell others this good news, we sin by such silence. If we do not encourage them to put their faith in Christ as their Redeemer, our silence is sin.

The same blessings that have come to us through faith in our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ can become the possession of others too, but we Christians must tell them.

PRAYER: Father in heaven, keep us from the sin of silence. Grant that we may not withhold from others the knowledge of the gospel of Thy grace. Through faith in our Lord Jesus Christ and in His name we ask it. Amen.

Thought For The Day I will speak to others of the great things the Lord has done for me. —Olive W. Mumert (Alberta)

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions; according to Thy mercy, remember Thou me for Thy goodness' sake, O Lord. —(Psalm 25:7.)

Some of us find it difficult to forgive ourselves of the thoughtless or willful sins of our younger days, and a feeling of guilt lies like a stone on our hearts through the long years. But Our Father, through Christ Jesus, forgives us when we are truly repentant; we should then forgive ourselves.

Outdoor, Indoor Living Featured in Ranch House From Small Homes Guide

3 Bedrooms, Rear Terrace

A combination of modern outdoor features and good room arrangement has made this house a favorite with Small Homes Guide readers. The three bedrooms are arranged to form an L at the rear, making a central entrance hall for the terrace. The popular trend toward outdoor living is reflected in the feature, it is ideal for both warm weather living and dining. Doors from dining room open onto it. Terrace is a fine living for the present coming into the recreation hall, separated from the house floor by a glass curtain wall, there coming around the corner for a surprise view of the fireplace at the other end of the room. Barbecue divide the living and dining rooms. The terrace will be especially pleased with the modified U-shaped kitchen, the level entrance made there for storage, and the breakfast nook that saves the dining room for more formal occasions. Here eatables and a breakfast room, a convenient sleeping and serving partition between the back and kitchen proper. Full basement offers limitless possibilities for storage and recreation.

Area of the house by Architect Walter T. Ankra is 1750 sq. ft. Information on blueprints and their cost can be obtained by writing to Small Homes Guide, 42 W. Washington, Chicago 2, Illinois.

LIVE WIRE 4-H CLUB

The Live Wire 4-H Club of Upton met February 23, at Halloway Homestead with leader Fred Judkins. The meeting was called to order by Pres. Freddie Judkins.
One verse of America was followed by Flag Salute and Club Pledge. Roll call was answered by giving the name of a native hardwood tree.

Under new business it was voted to raise $2.00 toward the purchase of a new rototiller for C. A. Judkins who lost his in the recent fire. Mr. Judkins was a former leader of the club. It was also voted to contribute 50 cents to the National club room. The state is asking 10 cents per member.
Our next meeting is to be March 14th stressing the training of dairy helpers.

The local leader returned the judging ribbons made at last meeting and awarded Judy Judkins the winners ribbon.

It was voted to write some stories on project work for the Maine Farmer and Homemaker.

Refreshments of fresh doughnuts were served.

After the meeting was adjourned the members went over to the fire ruins and did some cleaning up.

Part of the meeting was tape recorded for National 4-H week in place of the part that didn't come in good at last meeting.

V. A. NEWS LETTER

Despite what some veterans may believe, there is no grace period for the late payment of installments on GI loans. M. L. Stoddard, manager of the Veterans Administration Center, Togus, said today.

Thus, he added, veterans should make their GI loan payments on or before the date they are due.
Failure to do so may prove costly, he pointed out, since GI lenders may make an extra service charge when payments are received late.

Lenders are permitted to make a charge of an extra 4% of any installment paid more than fifteen days after the due date.

Stoddard warned that veterans who grin the reputation of being "chronic delinquents" will find their lenders take this into account if the veterans should ever need an extension of repayment time on their GI loans.

In addition to their loss of credit standing, veterans who become delinquent in their payments may be ultimately faced with the loss of the property acquired with their GI loans, Stoddard said.

freshment committee for next meeting is Rebecca and Rachel Keniston. Demonstrations will be held at the South Paris Universalist Church on Friday March 6.
Vivian, Rachel and Vicky will take part from our group. The rest of the meeting was spent working on becca Keniston.

strate at the Girl Scouts on Tuesday. Reporter, Jacklyn Crouse

The Spoon and Hoe 4-H Club

Then boys and girls were called together to rehearse a play which will be held this Friday, March 6.
There will be a rehearsal for the boys and girls participating in the play on Wednesday evening. Club with the salute to the flag. Then we played a game and worked on our project. We had refreshments and closed the meeting with the

On Wednesday, March 4, Den 6 met at the home of Virginia Hutchins, our Den Mother. We opened our meeting with the pledge to the flag. Mark Hutchins was elected our new Denner and Larry Smith was elected our new Keeper of the Buckskin. We discussed our project for the month, which is "Canada" and we looked at some maps and folders of Canfor our Den's part of the totem pole to be displayed at the next pack meeting and we chose Lar-

Lay tissue paper INTO FOLDS OF GARMENTS. IT'LL HELP AVOID WRINKLES, CREASES.

Use plastic bottles for ALL SPILLABLES, PUT COSMETICS IN PLIOFILM BAGS. TAKE SOME EXTRA PLASTIC BAGS FOR LAUNDRY.

Good Printing SERVES EVERYBODY

Good printing is a necessity in all forms of business. It can save hours of work, speed up routine tasks, eliminate common errors and help to avoid misunderstandings and costly delays or actual loss of business revenue.

Good printing is a convenience in the home. Inexpensive personal stationery is not only economical and in good taste but it is plain "good business" when used for other than social purposes. One's name and address plainly printed offer exact information of your identity in occasional correspondence.

The latest in modern business forms can be adapted to use in many comparatively small businesses. As a matter of economy of time and money, it will pay to see what we can do for you in this line.

Remember that printed matter can be bought at widely varying prices. The bargain hunter can only hope to get his money's worth. The cost of good printing need not be high, and the buyer is assured of satisfaction.

It will be of advantage to all users of printed matter to consult us before buying. We can supply calendars, NCR and one-time carbon forms, many kinds of forms and office supplies promptly and economically.

From my front porch

By CARL HELM

I was reading the other day, a statement that city dogs are much healthier than country dogs.

City dogs, it's claimed, are better fed, on balanced diets out of cans; they're sheltered from heat, rain and snow; they are taken to dog hospitals for shots and check-ups, and there they get antiseptic, sweet-scented baths, have their nails manicured.

Healthy and un-smelly, city dogs may be. That gratifies their owners, no doubt. But what self-respecting dog, other than one of those under-sized French poodles, would choose such a life? What fun is it to be a city dog, healthy or not?

A dog must have space to run in, grass to roll in, earth to dig holes in, trees to investigate, neighbors' garbage cans to explore, kids to romp with. Otherwise he's not a dog, but simply a pampered creature to satisfy his owner's vanity.

City dogs may be healthier, and devoid of fleas to occupy their minds, and prettily mannered. I say, they may be — I wouldn't bet on it! But I would bet that country mutts are happier — and happiness means as much to a pooch as it does to a person!
